FROST WARNINGS OUT FOR CITRUS DISTRICTS

Flood Conditions in North Improve—Steamer to Carry R. R. Travelers on Way

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 28.-The recent storm cleared here last evening and was followed by cold that was accompanied throughout the night by a forty-five-mile-an-hour gale which prevented frost. Traffic is being gradually restored today at practically all points.

San Luis Obispo reported by long distance telephone that there have been no trains there since last Friday. The marooned Southern Pacific passengers there are waiting for the steamer Santa Clara to remove them, as there will be no trains at San Luis Obispo or Santa Barbara for sev-

WARDEN INVENTS R. R. SAFETY RAIL

Frank O. Hellstrom, warden of the North Dakota penitentiary at Bismarck, with the help of a life convict, Carl Olson, has invented a safety rail for use on railroads, which he believes will prevent many accidents and save thousands of lives. The rail is to be given its first trial on the lines of the Soo system this spring. Railroad men and steel mill owners have become deeply interested in

The Hellstrom-Olson safety rail is made in two places, a reversible tread of hard steel, which doubles the life of the rail now in use, with a continuous reinforcing bar of soft steel. This combination, it is said, will eliminate defective rails and rail failures due to the severity of the cold.

Hellstrom achieved a national reputation as warden of the North Dakota penitentiary on account of his humane treatment of the prisoners. He ran for governor to succeed Governor Burke on the Dem-ocratic ticket in 1913. In a three-cornered fight he lost by 7,000 votes, though he ran 2,000 votes ahead of President Wilson, who carried North Dakota's presidential vote. He is now mentioned for United States senator this spring against Senator Gronna,

BOARD OF SUPERVISORS

POOLROOMS OF COUNTY MUST CLOSE AT

Two Ordinances Passed by Supervisors on Koepsel's

Suggestion

Two weeks from today poolrooms in Orange county, outside of incorporated cities, must close their doors at 11 o'clock each night instead of at 12 o'clock midnight.

This is one change made in the operation of poolrooms by two ordinances passed by the Board of Supervisors yesterday afternoon at the suggestion of Deputy District Attor-ney Koepsel. Koepsel has had charge of the prosecution of a number of poolroom cases in which violations of the county ordinance regulating those places were charged. The new ordinance is aimed to remedy some of the useless difficulties of prosecu tion that Koepsel has found existing under the old ordinance, which will go out of effect in two weeks.

While the law can order a pool room proprietor to close his place of business at any given hour, it cannot prevent the proprietor from within his own place. The old law made it necessary to allege that the defendant was not the proprietor. In every poolroom case the prosecution had to prove ownership. Under the law now by a change of wording, the proof of ownership rests with the defendant. In other words, the defendant must show who has a right to be in the poolroom after the closing

The ordinance makes it a misdemeanor for any poolroom proprietor to allow any person under 21 years of age to remain within his poolroom. The maximum penalty for violating the new law is a fine of $500 or a sentence of six months in jail.

The second ordinance passed the supervisors at the suggestion of the deputy district attorney is an anti-gambling ordinance. It makes it a misdemeanor to gamble, play in a gambling game or bet on any game played with cards, dice, balls, cues Take a Glass of Salts if Your or any device representing money or credit, such as checks, chips or other representatives of value. It is also a misdemeanor to keep a place where gambling is conducted. The ordinance specifies that it does not cover in the state law. The new ordinance is meant to correct some of the lame spots in the old law.

Never before has Anaheim had such heavily laden trees, and the fruit is of exceptional size and flavor. This is accounted for to a great extent by the fact that Anaheim experienced no frost injury last year, which has entitled her to wear the "frostless belt."

Owing to the breaking of the largest battleship.

The real opposition to the bill will develop in the house where the rivalry between Norfolk and Philadelphia for a new Atlantic dry dock threatens the naval program for this year.

Representative Lee of Philadelphia is against any dry dock plan except the one for his city, and as part of the fight against Norfolk he will oppose the San Francisco plan.

Owing to the breaking of the Richfield reservoir Monday, the water rushed in at the northern end of town and several ranches are surrounded with water. At the L. H. Fellows ranch the water stands up around the house. Mr. Fellows stated that it had not damaged his orange grove to any extent, and in asmuch as the water was thick with a rich silt, he believed that it would prove a decided benefit to his grove. J. C. ## COMMITTEE TALKS HARBOR FRONTAGE

Newport News: A committee consisting of Trustees Parkinson, Way and Collins of the Board of Trustees, and Lew H. Wallace, W. W. Wilson, F. W. Beckwith and W. A. Cornelius of the Chamber of Commerce had a meeting with James Irvine, owner of the Irvine ranch, in regard to harbor frontage on Newport Bay, Friday

The meeting was held on the strip of land on the bank of the Santa Ana river which the city wants Mr. Irvine to donate to the municipality in return for the voting of $100,000 for the construction of a jetty at the entrance to Newport Bay.
Mr. Irvine looked favorably on the proposition put up to him by the committee and said that he did not want to retard the development of New-port bay by putting off the construction of a jetty a day longer than necessary

He asked that a deed be submitted to him embodying the demands and requirements of the city and he would put certain conditions in it himself. One of these was that if he donated the harbor frontage a clause would be placed in the deed making it the property of the city for harbor pur-poses forever. Another referred to the time required for the construction of the jetty. Mr. Irvine thought his deed for the property should not be held in escrow too long as the city would have the property tied up and the bonds were not voted he would ing ranches.

Mr. Irvine drove down from his ranch house in his Stutz car and was REPAIRS accompanied by A. J. Crookshank.

HERE'S A WAY TO BEAT MR. HIGH COST O' LIVIN'

CLEVELAND, O., Jan. 28 .- "Don't keep a garbage can in any event. Chickens, if you have room for them, are the best substitutes." This is one of the ways to get the best of Mr. High Cost O'Livin', according to Mrs. Susie E. Weber, who has made a lifelong study of domestic economy—how to save waste and work in the kitchen. She hopes some day to establish a school in which she will teach the results of her experience. Mrs. Weber recently delivered a lecture to Normai School girls, who are seeking to learn how a family of five must live to get along on an income of $10 a week. "The chief thing is to save waste," said Mrs. Weber. "Let me tell you it is the leaks in the kitchens of many households that are not only partly to blame for the present high cost of living but also the direct cause for not a few divorces. Save your greases, fats and suets off meats, out of which to render lard for cooking purposes. Grate your stale bread to use in place of flour in baking doughnuts, muffins and biscuits. Use one cupful of bread crumbs to every two cups of flour or ornmeal. Use celery leaves to make celery soup. Celery soup made this way is the finest. Celery ends make good celery salad. Eat lots of raw carrots if you wish to keep your hair from becoming gray. As for coffee, is all depends on its making. The highest grade does not always make the best coffee. It is care that makes good coffee. "When working in the kitchen try to find the most graceful way, be-cause it is always the easiest. Do not hunch over when peeling potatoes. Bring the potatoes to yourself. You save much of the potatoes as well as yourself. Beat eggs on a platter; not in a bowl. You will get a greater quantity and better results. Have plenty of tools to work with and upto-date ones. Keep chickens or a garden so as to use the waste you cannot otherwise prevent."
